WEEK ONE: PUCCINI'S LA BOHÈME

COLLINE'S COAT

Throughout La Bohème, the philosopher Colline has a rather unusual companion—his winter coat! But in Act IV when Mimì is ill, he offers to sell this essential item in order to pay for some medicine for her. Colline even sings a small ode to his coat in order to bid it a fond farewell, showing how much it means to him. Using the form below and your imagination, design a coat for Colline. How has it aged after being worn for so long? What important items might Colline keep in its pockets?
